

Poster 6: Modernizing the Database Information System (DBIS) for Global Collaboration

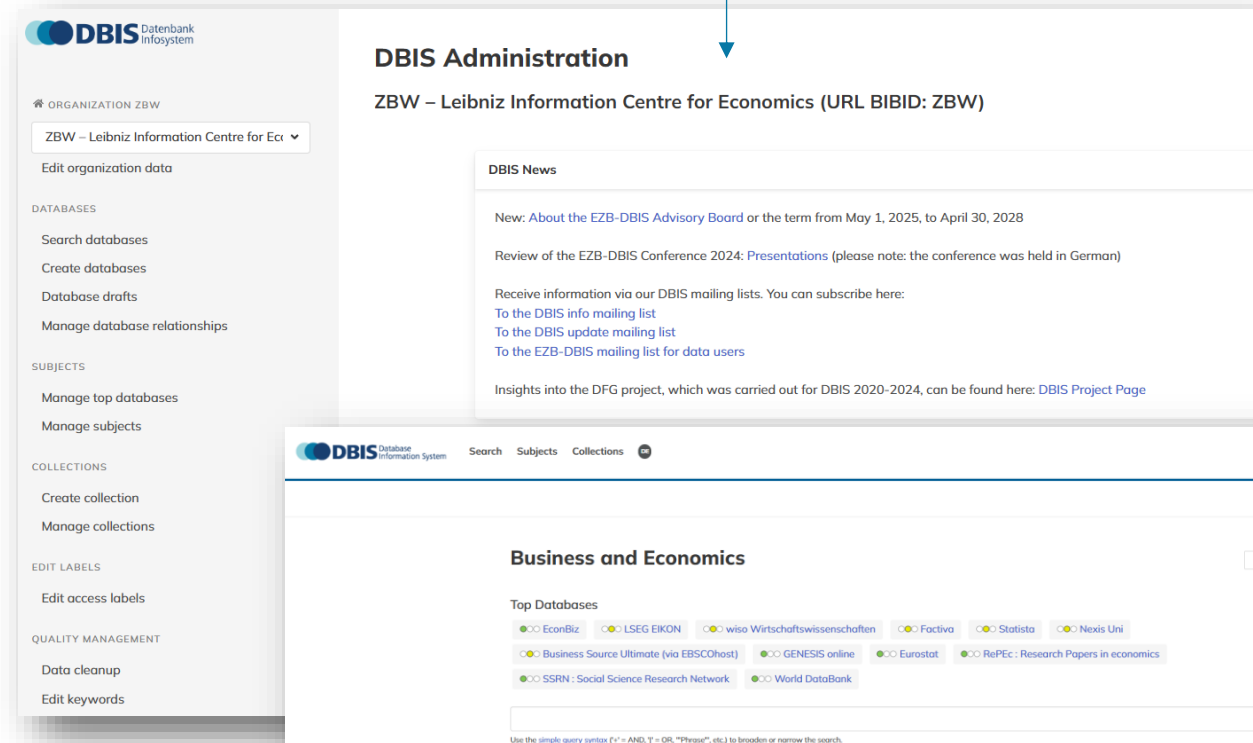

by Brigitte Doss

The Database Information System (DBIS)...

- currently contains information on approximately 14,000 academic databases across all disciplines, including more than 6,000 freely accessible ones
→ 1,468 databases, with 372 freely accessible ones, in the fields of Business and Economics
- is now also available in English, opening up the service to international users
- is already utilized by over 400 libraries

Administrator interface

User interface

Poster 6: Modernizing the Database Information System (DBIS) for Global Collaboration

by Brigitte Doss

DBIS is part of the UR Library Services, a product family that also includes the Electronic Journals Library (EZB) and the Regensburger Verbundklassifikation (RVK).

These services have been provided by the University Library of Regensburg, Germany, for decades.

Cooperative Management of Electronic Journals

Cooperative System for Knowledge Indexing

Qualität durch Kooperation

www.ur-library.de

ur-library@ur.de